Italian Embassy in Damascus

2019-01-11

With regard to the news about the Italian Embassy in Damascus, it should be noted that the Foreign Ministry recalled the Ambassador in 2012 and ever since has not had political relations with Damascus. Recently, all the Ministry of Foreign Affairs and International Cooperation has done has been to replace, as per standard practice, the Charge d’affaires who will continue to exercise official duties in accordance with the position agreed by the European Union regarding relations with the Syrian Authorities.
