Press Statement
Syrian Coalition
Istanbul, Turkey
November 30, 2013

On Friday November 29, Assad's force, backed by Shabiha and mercenaries, entered the city of Deir Attiah in the Qalamoun area, rural Damascus after days of heavy shelling and killed nearly 35 civilians in the city; most of them were summarily executed.

In the city of Nabik, rural Damascus, Assad's forces rounded up and are now holding entire families in cellars of buildings adjacent to military barracks in the city. Thirty families have been trapped in these underground dungeons for four days now.

The Syrian Coalition calls on the United Nations Security Council and international human rights organizations to force the Assad regime to release the more than 150 individuals trapped in dungeons in Nabik. The Coalition warns that Assad's forces are possibly planning to murder those civilians or use them as human shields

Enough is enough. Assad's death machine must be stopped, and the world must realize the regime does not even want a political solution in Syria. It will continue to murder innocent people in Syria as long as the international community does not act to put pressure on the allies of the regime to force it to acknowledge the Syrian people's demands for freedom and democracy.

We ask for Mercy for our martyrs, health for our wounded, and freedom for our detainees.

Long live Syria and its people, free and with honor.
