Foreign & Commonwealth Office (UK)

Foreign and Commonwealth Office condemns break-in at Syrian Embassy in London

2012-02-04

A Foreign and Commonwealth Office spokesperson said:

“The Foreign and Commonwealth Office condemns the actions of protestors who broke into the Syrian Embassy in London in the early hours of 4 February.

“The UK takes seriously its obligations to protect the staff and premises of foreign states in the UK. The FCO commends the swift action of the Metropolitan Police who have arrested a number of the protestors involved in the break-in.

“The Metropolitan Police are reviewing security arrangements at the Syrian Embassy and will take appropriate action to ensure the safety of the building.”

Source: https://www.gov.uk/government/news/foreign-and-commonwealth-office-condemns-break-in-at-syrian-embassy-in-london