January 23, 2013

It is with deep grief and sorrow; the Coalition received the news of another explosion that killed dozens of people in the city of Salamiyah. This is another heinous crime that has the fingerprints of the Syrian regime, which continues to try to create a rift between the people of one homeland.

The National Coalition condemns any indiscriminate bombings targeting civilians, wherever they are, and causing loss of life and destruction in our cities and towns. This is a dirty game that has been mastered by the regime and displayed by its crime-tainted history, both inside and outside Syria, which has created an endless list of victims and martyrs everywhere.

We extend our sincere condolences to the mourning families in Salamiyah and all across Syria. Every precious drop of Syrian blood is a huge loss to us and to the homeland and its people. It is the price paid for freedom and the result of a strategy by a criminal regime that is trying to push the homeland into dark tunnels to hold on power in any form.
