The Syrian Coalition condemns the crimes and violations that the Houthi militias continue to commit against civilians in Yemen and the attacks they launch against Saudi Arabia, especially the crime of firing a ballistic missile on the capital Riyadh.

The Iranian regime is chiefly responsible for supporting terrorist groups and spreading extremist ideology, igniting more wars and crises, and supporting tyranny and oppression. It has always stood against the aspirations of the peoples and their rights to freedom and justice.

The Syrian Coalition expresses its full solidarity with the people and leadership of Saudi Arabia against attempts by Iran and its terrorist arms in the region, especially the Houthi and Hezbollah militias to further destabilize the region. The Coalition praises the steadfastness shown by the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia in the face of Iran's aggressive policies and its outright hostility to the peoples and countries of the region.
