05.04.2012 - Press release

In connection with the Presidential Statement adopted today (5 April) by the UN (United Nations) Security Council, Foreign Minister Westerwelle has commented as follows:

“I welcome the UN (United Nations) Security Council’s unequivocal call on the Syrian regime to follow through visibly on its commitments and bring about a ceasefire. This shows the international community is tired of Assad’s tactical games. We will continue at all levels to press for an end to the violence and for a political transition in Syria.”
